ANNUAL EVENTS

5th Annual Oktoberfest: On Saturday, October 8th, 2011 we will be celebrating our Fifth Annual Oktoberfest on the farm. So dust off your lederhosen and head to Traders Point Creamery. This celebration, in the German tradition, offers plenty of tantalizing organic food, beer and wine, and toe-tapping music from PolkaBoy, a rollicking 13-piece polka band. There are plenty of activities the kids will enjoy too, like hayrides, a pumpkin patch, face painting, calf petting, and watch cow milking! And while you're having fun, you'll be helping the farm raise money for the Traders Point Rural Historic District, a nonprofit organization that protects more than 7,000 acres of green space around Eagle Creek for the enjoyment of generations to come. An additional 2,600 acres have been added to the National Register of Historic Places with the help of our Oktoberfest. This rare honor is only the third rural historic district to be named in Indiana. The fundraiser has donated over $35,000 to the Traders Point Rural Historic Districts in the last 4 years. Tickets are $10, $8 in advance.
